

Author Biography

Kimmelin Hull grew up in the greater Seattle area, and now lives with her husband and three children in Bozeman, Montana where she teaches childbirth and parenting preparation classes through her own private organization, Pregnancy to Parenthood, LLC. She has an undergraduate degree in creative writing from the University of Puget Sound, a Physician Assistant certificate from Saint Francis University, as well as Lamaze Childbirth Educator, and American Red Cross First Aid/CPR Instructor certifications. She is a freelance writer for Montana Parent magazine.

Please visit the author's website at: www.adozeninvisiblepieces.com.

You can also follow the book's progress through the Kimmelin's blog at:
<http://kimmelin.wordpress.com/>